

St. Joseph's Catholic Primary School
English - Writing
September 2026

This policy should be read in light of our Mission Statement as follows:

At St. Joseph's, we live love and learn by the example of Jesus.

Our Curriculum Intent

Through a rich and engaging reading curriculum, children will subsequently develop a natural flair in their writing and write with creativity. Children will gain a love of writing and be able to write in a variety of styles and for different audiences. Children will be able to reflect on their writing, and that of others, and offer constructive criticism to improve.

The National Curriculum for Writing

Aims

The overarching aim for English in the national curriculum is to promote high standards of language and literacy by equipping pupils with a strong command of the spoken and written word, and to develop their love of literature through widespread reading for enjoyment.

The National Curriculum for English aims to ensure that all pupils:

- read easily, fluently and with good understanding
- develop the habit of reading widely and often, for both pleasure and information
- acquire a wide vocabulary, an understanding of grammar and knowledge of linguistic conventions for reading, writing and spoken language
- appreciate our rich and varied literary heritage
- write clearly, accurately and coherently, adapting their language and style in and for a range of contexts, purposes and audiences
- use discussion in order to learn; they should be able to elaborate and explain clearly their understanding and ideas
- are competent in the arts of speaking and listening, making formal presentations, demonstrating to others and participating in debate.

Implementation

English lessons are taught daily for 1 hour. Our units cover a variety of genres and finish with an independent written piece. Our aim is to include more cross-curricular writing through Science and the Humanities.

Programme of Study

Following the National Curriculum guidelines and, in light of the new Writing Framework, each class should aim to meet the requirements outlined below:

EYFS

Children use their phonic knowledge to write words in ways which match their spoken sounds. They also write some irregular common words. They write simple sentences which can be read by themselves and others. Some words are spelt correctly and others are phonetically plausible.

Vocabulary, Grammar, Punctuation

Pupils should be taught to:

Develop their understanding of the concepts set out in English Appendix 2 by:

- learning how to use both familiar and new punctuation correctly (see English Appendix 2), including full stops, capital letters, exclamation marks, question marks, commas for lists and apostrophes for contracted forms and the possessive (singular)

Evaluate and edit by:

- assessing the effectiveness of their own and others' writing

- proposing changes to vocabulary, grammar and punctuation to enhance effects and clarify meaning
- ensuring the consistent and correct use of tense throughout a piece of writing
- ensuring correct subject and verb agreement when using singular and plural, distinguishing between the language of speech and writing and choosing the appropriate register

- punctuating bullet points consistently

Use and understand the grammatical terminology in English Appendix 2 accurately and appropriately in discussing their writing and reading.

Assessment and Recording

Following our Marking and Feedback policy, writing is continually assessed on a daily basis through ‘conferencing’ and ‘helicoptering’. It is then formally assessed when a unit naturally finishes. The work in this book is then marked and assessed using the TAF criteria from HfL. Records are updated at the end of each writing unit in order to keep an accurate track of a child’s progress.

Impact

Through a varied curriculum, children should be able to write meaningfully for a variety of purposes. Cross-curricular writing should be evident throughout the year in order to give purpose to a child’s learning, and to show a good level of writing throughout the curriculum.

Inclusion

All children receive quality first teaching and are given the necessary scaffolds to achieve their potential. This may be seen through words mats, sound sheets, dictionary and thesaurus work or it may be more obvious during a lesson through 'conferencing'.

Monitoring

Writing is closely monitored throughout the year through data analysis, pupil voice, lesson drop ins and book looks. Where necessary, children will be placed into booster groups to support a particular area of their writing.

Resources

All classes have access to dictionaries, thesauruses, word mats and sound mats and these are on the desk or labelled clearly in the classroom. Some children have additional resources as necessary and these may be talking tins, phoneme frames, individual raised whiteboards, pencil grippers or standing tables.

Review

This policy should be viewed as a working document for the benefit of all concerned in the education of the children at St. Joseph's Catholic Primary School.
